

WELCOME WORDS TO WOMEN

Women who suffer with disorders peculiar to their sex should write to Dr. Pierce and receive free the advice of a physician of over 40 years' experience—a skilled and successful specialist in the diseases of women. Every letter of this sort has the most careful consideration and is regarded as strictly confidential. Many sensitively modest women write fully to Dr. Pierce what they would shrink from telling to their local physician. The local physician is pretty sure to say that he cannot do anything without "an examination." Dr. Pierce holds that these distasteful examinations are generally needless, and that no woman, except in rare cases, should submit to them.

Dr. Pierce's treatment will cure you right in the privacy of your own home. His "Favorite Prescription" has cured hundreds of thousands, some of them the worst of cases. It is the only medicine of its kind that is the product of a regularly graduated physician. The only one good enough that its makers dare to print its every ingredient on its outside wrapper. There's no secrecy. It will bear examination. No alcohol and no habit-forming drugs are found in it. Some unscrupulous medicine dealers may offer you a substitute. Don't take it. Don't trifle with your health. Write to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, President, Buffalo, N. Y.,—take the advice received and be well.

"The Wolf."

"The Wolf," one of the big dramatic successes of the year, comes to Wright's Grand next Wednesday, February 21. This play, by Eugene Walter, just now famous as the youngest American playwright, has been running all summer in New York and Chicago, and there already are several companies en tour presenting "The Wolf," but this city is to be complimented by the management, who are sending here the original production and an all-star cast.

The story of "The Wolf" is laid in the Hudson Bay country. It is a narrative of life, love and revenge among the early settlers of the great Canadian Northwest, and in dealing with these characters who live very close to nature, Mr. Walter has provided a romance which holds his audience spellbound from the opening act to the finale.

He Won't Limp Now.

No more limping for Tom Moore of Cochran, Ga. "I had a bad sore on my instep that nothing seemed to help till I used Bucklen's Arnica Salve," he writes, "but this wonderful healer soon cured me." ### A BAPTIST FOR 63 YEARS

William Lale Who Was Born in Kentucky in 1832 Died Sunday.

William Lale was born in Grant county, Kentucky, August 7th, 1832, and died in Odessa, Mo., February 4th, 1912, aged 79 years, 5 months and 27 days. He was one of 13 children only two of whom are now left, one brother in Kansas City, Columbus Lale, and a sister in Ohio. He was preceded to the grave by only a few weeks by his brother, Benson Lale. These two brothers had always lived near each other and worked together. They married sisters, Mary Jane and Sallie Hutchinson.

Deacon Lale had belonged to just three churches. He joined the Mount Zion Baptist church in Kentucky August 1849. They drove through in wagons to Missouri in the fall of 1858 and he brought his church letter with him and put it in the old Mount Prairie Church northeast of Odessa. Later when the Baptist church was organized in Odessa he joined here. He was ordained a deacon in this church and has always been a faithful servant of his church. He loved his Savior, lived an exemplary life and was a modest unassuming good man. His pastor, L. M. Proctor, preached the funeral sermon from the house which was crowded with many of those that loved him. There were no flowers for he did not believe in putting flowers on the casket but in giving them to the living.

One child, John J., preceded him to Heaven several years ago, and other five children were present with their families. They are Mrs. Lizzie Belt, of Benton county, Mrs. Martha Galloway, William and Thomas N. Lale of Odessa and Robert M. Lale of Lexington.

The bodies of these two brothers were interred in the city cemetery in a lot which leaves room for the two sisters, their wives, when the Lord shall call them home. These were good men, they lived here over a half century. Many relatives sincerely mourn their loss and a host of true and tried friends bear splendid testimony to their sterling worth. —Lawrence M. Proctor in the Odessa Democrat.

Salves Cannot Cure Eczema.

Since the old fashioned theory of treating eczema and other skin diseases through the blood has been exploded as unsound, many different preparations in the way of salves and ointments have been tried, but they have been proven practically worthless. "Brinkley's Sanador," however, is now recognized as the king of all skin remedies. Your druggist will personally guarantee satisfaction. For sale by Crenshaw & Young.

We dry clean and press suits, overcoats, skirts, silk waists, fancy vests, neckties, cravattes, sweaters, bathrobes, mufflers, etc. Our service is prompt and both the work and the prices charged are satisfactory. You no doubt have something in this line that you would like to have us get. Phone 130 and the wagon will be there in a short time.

LITTLE GIRL WAS HONORED

Visit to Governor's Private Office Was Not Entirely Without Its Compensations.

Three boys and a little girl were being shown through the governor's private office a few days ago when the governor was out. The oldest boy, still less than ten years old, learned which was the governor's chair, and, asking permission, climbed into it, the envy of the other three children. A second boy demanded to share the honor, and the chair changed occupants.

Not to be outdone, the third boy, looking over the desk, saw a penholder lying on an inkstand. It was an ordinary wooden penholder that could be bought for two pennies, but the boy asked permission to take it in his hands. Permission given, he took it up and examined it as carefully as if it were made of pure gold.

Through all this the little girl had been unnoticed. For her no sitting in the big chair and no penholder. As the visitors were leaving the room, however, she caught her mother's hand and whispered:

"I don't care if I didn't sit in his chair, I spit in his spittoon."—Indianapolis News.

MAKING THE BEST OF THINGS

Habit of Seeing Good in Everything May Become Most Unendurable of Virtues.

There are several injudicious ways of making the best of things. One of them is illustrated by the humble young curate, pictured long ago in Punch, who protested when the bishop, his host, expressed doubts of an egg the curate was eating. "Oh, no, my lord; I assure you some parts of it are excellent." Fancy looking on the bright side of a bad egg! The effort was surely less ingratiating than the curate supposed. Indeed this habit of seeing good in everything may become the most unendurable of virtues—as distressing as grim patience, which is a common and effective method of wearing out the mind. I like to remember the complacent old lady who said, when a friend reminded her that she had had little trouble in her life, "Yes, but I've made the most of what I've had." She chose more wisely than the people who come exhausted out of their victories over circumstance. Wounds of the spirit are glorious only when the battle has been mighty. —Atlantic.

SOMETHING WE ALL DO.

The good letter writer needs something more than a passively good reader; he must feel a vivid consciousness of the personality he is addressing—a certainty of understanding, of sympathy and interest—a general responsiveness to his own point of view. Surely we can all divide our friends into groups of those who are easy to write to and those who are difficult. I trust that I am not the only person of my acquaintance who frequently finds herself creeping, like a snail, unwillingly to a desk piled high with unanswered letters, and instead of reducing that ominous white drift which threatens to smother its victim under, takes pen in hand and writes a perfectly gratuitous and unnecessary letter to the one friend in the world to whom no letter is owing. —From Atlantic.

THE 1912 CALENDAR.

Orville Wright, at a tea in Dayton, said with a laugh:

"In choosing an aeroplane, as in choosing a wife or a husband, surface qualities, flashy qualities, shouldn't sway us. We shouldn't act like the girl aviator.

"This girl aviator discarded a swift and stable monoplane last month for one that was both shaky and slow.

"Why on earth did she make this change?" an engineer asked.

"Oh," another engineer replied, "the new firm is getting out such a handsome 1912 calendar."

IN DIXIE.

"The thermometer was 42 degrees below zero at Prince Albert, Saskatchewan, the other day."

"For heaven's sake, pull down the window and bring my coat. You make me shiver."

APPROPRIATE COLOR.

"Did you say that stunning green costume was for a widow?"

"Yes, but she's a grass widow."

MR. PATTERSON RESIGNS

Elected Principal Garfield School in Kansas City.

Prof. M. J. Patterson, Superintendent of the public schools, presented his resignation to the School Board last night to take effect next Thursday. The Board immediately elected Mr. B. M. Little to fill the vacancy.

Mr. Patterson's resignation comes as a big surprise to his large number of friends in Lexington. He has been the Superintendent of the Lexington public school for the past six years and has always given thorough and efficient service. He came at a time when most needed—when the public schools here needed some modern ideas—and his work in perfect harmony with the Board of Education has put the public schools on a level with any in the state.

The Board of Education is most fortunate in securing Mr. B. M. Little to fill the position. Mr. Little has been a teacher in the High School for four years and has been Principal for the past three years. He is a most able gentleman, a master of history, and is in every way fitted to fill the vacancy. Through his efficiency, fairness and congeniality he has won the respect and admiration of every student in the school and the intelligencer and his large number of friends in the city, predict a successful future for the public schools.—From the Intelligencer.

THEY INJURE CHILDREN

Cathartics and Pills and Harch Physics May Cause Distressing Complaints.

You cannot be over-careful in the selection of medicine for children. Only the very gentlest bowel medicine should ever be given. Ordinary pills, cathartics, and purgatives are too apt to do harm than good. They sometimes cause griping, nausea, and distressing after-effects, and may actually injure the health, thus establishing a life-lasting annoyance.

We personally recommend and guarantee Rexall Orderlies as a safe and dependable remedy for constipation and associate bowel disorders. We have such faith in the virtues of this remedy that we sell it on our guarantee of money back in every instance where it fails to give entire satisfaction, and we urge all in need of such medicine to try it at our risk.

Rexall Orderlies are eaten just like candy, are particularly prompt and agreeable in action, may be taken at any time, day or night; do not cause diarrhoea, nausea, griping, excessive looseness, or other undesirable effects. They have a very mild but positive action upon the organs with which they come in contact, presently acting as a regulative tonic upon the relaxed muscular coat of the bowel, thus overcoming weakness, and aiding to restore the bowels to more vigorous and healthy activity.

Rexall Orderlies not only relieve constipation, but help to remove the cause of this ailment. They also frequently overcome the necessity of constantly taking laxatives to keep the bowels in normal condition.

There is really, in our opinion, no similar medicine so good as Rexall Orderlies for the purpose to which it is directed, especially for children, aged and delicate persons. They are prepared in tablet form and in two sizes of packages; 12 tablets, 10c., 36 tablets, 25c., and 80 tablets, 50c. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in this community only at our store—the Rexall Store, Crenshaw & Young.
